In 1947, I was born in Pauoa Valley, Oahu and raised after 1956 on Waimanalo Hawaiian Homestead Lands. Following my education, I served in the Navy during the Vietnam Era and received several medals of commendation. Since my release from the military, I have become the father of four children and have been employed as a government employee for 25 years on both Kauai and Oahu.

Although my upper level education has been limited I have learned many things through my employment and by volunteering for many organizations, including being an active member at the grassroots level of the Democratic Party for over 20 years.

As a Native Hawaiian, I have strong feelings for the land, sea, natural and cultural resources of this state. I cannot say in 250 words how my feeling for my native land makes me want to make a difference for our state.
